Boatyard Double 46%, Fermanagh £6.50
From the first legal distillery in Fermanagh in 120 years comes this 'super premium' gin. A beautiful floral, citrus crush note from this 'double gin', so called due to the fact that they follow a traditional Dutch-style method of second contact with fresh botanicals. Have a double!

Copeland Spiced Apple & Blackcurrant 37.8% £5.50
Fruity and fruit forward Saintfield gin. Founded in the summer of 2015, aided by crowd-funding, with over 580 backers. Try it as an aperitif over ice or as a classic G&T.

Thin Gin 40%, Waterford £5.50
Best Irish Gin at The I.W.A. Awards 2015. When Isaac Thin couldn't locally find the exquisite gin he'd tasted in Paris, he set about creating his own. Thin conducted experiments using juniper, coriander, citrus peel and Irish hedgerow fruits. His gin is fun, fruity and slightly naughty.....find out the back story to this one on the reverse label!

Echlinville Single Pot Still Gin with Seaweed 46%, Lecale Peninsula £6.50
Just won 'Best Irish Gin' at The World Gin Awards. According to the judges "There's something in that I can't put my finger on, but it softens the classic gin flavour in a lovely way. It tastes almost like vanilla, or almond. It mingles with the juniper to give a wonderfully balanced flavour. Really nice."

An extraordinary award-winning gin, produced by the enigmatic Professor Cornelius Ampleforth. Made using the traditional method of Cold Compounding (in layman's terms- infusing).
